

RWANDA & TANZANIA

September 2011

StuVac's 2011 seminar/safari in Rwanda and Tanzania remains a standout in the StuVac story. We trekked to find and spend several hours with gorillas in Rwanda. In Tanzania's Serengeti we tracked lions, cheetah, leopard with cubs, dik-dik, gazelle, crocs, hippos swimming, hyrax (think giant rat), wildebeest brawling, crowned crane, a massive flight of flamingos scared by an eagle. And throughout we heard the latest research into pain and the brain with Prof Paul Hodges. Following the seminar Paul wired up a hardy bunch and collected data as they climbed Mt Kilimanjaro. Simply Brilliant!
